Crime Strike (108 x 30')

Finally, a reality series showing citizens taking back their streets for their families. In this age of increased violence, easier access to dangerous drugs, and the growth of gangs, the Police are losing the battle. This series deals with how law abiding citizens "take back the streets" with the help of the police.

Focusing on how brave people make life or death decisions in seconds, information is discussed on such important topics as: child pornography, kidnapping, and how to teach your children to be "street smart".
